

IDIOMS WITH COLORS

Blue-collar worker

a person who earns a living doing manual labor, or generally uses his or her body rather than mind to earn a living

Sam works on an assembly line mass-producing clock radios. He's a blue-collar worker.

BLUE

Out of the blue

suddenly and unexpectedly

We were walking down the street when from out of the blue an old classmate we hadn't seen for years appeared.

Once in a blue moon

very rarely

Jean's parents encouraged her to accept the job with the prestigious company in New York. They told her that a job offer like that comes along only once in a blue moon.
