Robot Dreams (2023), an animated film by Pablo Berger

1) What is the synopsis of the movie? Remember that you want to convince the viewer to see the film, so don't give any spoilers. Just narrate the beginning of the film, without giving too many details. Use no more than the three lines that you have.

2) What is the moral of the story? Here you should write about the message that you could understand from the movie about how you should or should not behave.

3) Is the movie adaptation similar to the book? What are the differences and similarities?

4) Dog and Robot were great friends, but due to circumstances their friendship ended. Which side do you agree with the most and why? Use examples from the movie.

5) Read the following excerpt from Wendy Ile's review from The Guardian and try to guess what rating (from one to five stars) the reviewer gave the film. Remember to justify your answer using quotes from the fragment below.

"There's such tenderness to the storytelling, such empathy and emotional depth, that it broadens the film's potential audience from kids, who will respond to the cute characters and gentle wit, to adolescents and adults, who will recognise the angst and awkwardness of trying to function alone once again. What is perhaps remarkable is that this is Berger's first animated film."

Review written by Wendy Ide and published in The Guardian on March 24th, 2024.

6) Now it's your turn! Write your own review of the film. Remember that the review is not a summary of the story. Did you like the movie? Didn't like it? Tell your audience the reasons why you have your opinion. Always justify your point of view. Don't forget to rate the film with your rating from one to 5 stars.
